WILSON FORCES NEW REVOLUTION BREAKS WIELD BIG STICK OUT IN MEXICO; QUELLED OVER CONVENTION

Platform Sub Committee
Almost Solid Administration Body.

BRYAN LOSES OUT

McAdoo Boom Moves On Backed By President's Friends.

San Francisco, June 30.—With the political lieutenants of the Wilson administration sitting firmly in the saddle a Wilsonian platform in the making and the president's son-in-law, the likeliest looking contender for the nomination, the Democratic national convention turned to oratory today to fill in the time until the party managers clear away the work incident to nominating.

Today's session could facetiously be termed "the day of the big wind." The session will begin at 11 A. M. (2 P. M. eastern standard time) with oratory and continue with oratory as long as the delegates can endure it. The length of the session depends on the endurance of the delegates. The party managers hope to get at least the majority of the nominating speeches out of the way today, leaving nothing for the remainder of the week but the adoption of the platform and balloting, which will develop the nominee.

WILSON IN CONTROL

While the platform carpenters wrestled with the disputed planks, it became more and more clear that the forces of the administration were in complete control of the situation. The platform sub-committee of nine men which has the making of the temporary platform, is an almost solid administration body. William Jennings Bryan, the party's three time nominee for president, and Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, both of whom were considered opponents of the White House on certain matters, could not even get places on it despite their magnitude in Democratic affairs.

Meanwhile the McAdoo "boom" was moving majestically along, with little ostentatious direction yet backed by most of the president's friends and cabinet officers who are running things in San Francisco for him. The White House may be silent on the question of candidates, but the cabinet officers who meet there weekly are not. They are here plugging for William Gibbs McAdoo.

PALMER AND COX SAME

Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer and Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, continue to be the "Wood and Lowden" of the Democratic convention. Their strength so far as can be observed has not increased noticeably during the week.

The general opinion in San Francisco is that they will make their respective races in the first few ballots and then quietly fade.

It is likely that the balloting stage cannot be reached before late tomorrow or Friday, if then. The platform committee is not expected to bring in a report until late today. If William J. Bryan and some of other White House foes can be muzzled to prevent a floor fight against its adoption it will be speedily ratified, a nominee developed and everybody can go home.

If however, the platform is brought in such shape that Bryan and others cannot swallow it whole, then a floor fight undoubtedly will develop, delaying the whole thing and put off the picking of a candidate until Saturday. It was the consensus of opinion of party leaders and visitors today that come what may the convention can be ended by Saturday night.

The president has enough supporters in this convention to put over almost anything the White House desires. This has been shown by every vote on the floor and off it, to date.

Robbers Bind and Gag
Messenger And Get Away.

Augusta, Ga., June 30.—Three bandits entered the express car of the Charleston and Western Carolina railway eastbound passenger train just after it passed the city limits early this morning, bound and gagged E. B. Derrick, the express messenger and William Roberts, an armed guard; threw a safe containing nearly $60,000 out of the car door and escaped. The money comprised the pay roll being sent to the marine corps training school located on Paris Island and had been expressed from Atlanta, accompanied by an armed guard.

When thirty minutes later a brakeman entered the express car, finding the two men bound and gagged the bandits had disappeared.

WOULD RELIEVE JAM BY OPERATING RAIL ROADS AS A UNIT

Members Of Federal Trade
Commission Gives Suggestion.

Washington, June 30.—Operation of the railroads of the country "as a unit" as a means of relieving the present transportation difficulties was suggested by William B. Colver of the federal trade commission. Mr. Colver predicted that a continuation of the present situation would mean "untold suffering and industrial shut-downs next winter." Hundreds of millions of dollars are tied up now in merchandise in sidetracked cars, he said, keeping from the market badly needed coal for next winter's supply has been moved to the head of the lakes. Mr. Colver said, while the industries of New England are actually closing down now for lack of coal. Farmers also are unable to obtain cars to move the residue of last year's wheat crop at a time when the new crop is coming to harvest. Already, he declared, there are predictions of $25 flour and 25 cent bread.

Army, at Kelly field, San Antonio, who landed on Mexican soil near Matamoros on Sunday, has been released by the Mexican military authorities at Matamoros, according to a dispatch from that city to the war ministry today.

The foreign office is preparing to make representations to Washington regarding the landings of American airmen on Mexican soil.

STEAMER CRIPPLED BY ELECTRIC STORM

New York, June 30.—A police launch put to sea early today to aid a steamship which was reported in distress as a result of last night's violent electrical storm. The wireless message telling of the plight of the steamer was garbled in transmission and her exact whereabouts could not be determined. Damage estimated at more than a quarter of a million dollars was done by the storm in this city, and one woman was killed. Telephone and telegraphic communication was crippled at some points.

Mrs. Richard Roach and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wood.

ELECTORS NAMED BY REPUBLICANS AT STATE MEET

Boyd and Daugherty Favorites at State Convention.

LOANS ARE URGED Recommendation Is Made To Advance Money To Farm Help.

Columbus, June 30.—Election of presidential electors, selection of a permanent organization, receiving reports of various committees and adoption of the state party platform were on the Ohio Republican convention program for today.

Sentiment of delegates generally favored W. H. Boyd of Cleveland and Harry M. Daugherty for presidential electors-at-large, although Daugherty indicated he might decline the honor.

Nominations for presidential electors, selected by districts Tuesday, were confirmed by the convention as follows:

First district, George Puchta; Second, W. J. Howard; Third, Dwight Smythe; Fourth, George W. Porter; Fifth, A. B. Osborn; Sixth, W. T. Remley; Seventh, I. N. Zearing; Eighth, Ralph Perrott; Ninth, J. G. Steinkamp; Tenth, J. B. Lindsey; Eleventh, Barton Walters; Twelfth, L. W. Buckmaster; Thirteenth, Charles Thompson; Fourteenth, W. B. Baldwin; Fifteenth, F. M. Martin; Sixteenth, C. R. White; Seventeenth, C. R. Frederickson; Eighteenth, W. W. Cowan; Nineteenth, C. L. Shaylor; Twentieth, I. E. Archer; Twenty-first, A. B. Sprosty; Twenty-second, Theodore Myler.

Affirmation of a belief in the principles of the Smith 1 per cent law and a declaration favoring limitation upon public debts are the outstanding features of the taxation plank in the Republican state platform. Home rule in taxation, so far as practicable under the constitution, was approved. Limitation upon rates of taxation, the resolutions state, should not be imposed in defiance of the will of the greater number.

Among outstanding developments was the endorsement by delegations from the Third, Seventh and Fifteenth districts given Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith for renomination and election. Resolutions adopted in each case denounce the attempt to defeat him by confusion of voters and declare for a "square deal." The Seventh district is the home of C. Q. Hildebrandt, Smith's chief opponent.

Aid For Farmers.

Plans for closer co-operation between state headquarters and county organizations were outlined by State Chairman Clark at a joint meeting of the advisory committee and chairman of county central committees. Featuring this gathering was a proposal by Charles L. McKnight, publisher of the Akron Beacon-Journal, pledging the party to earnest effort to meet the farm labor situation.

McKnight proposed the state should provide for farm loans at 4 per cent, to run a maximum of 15 years, handled through the county farm agent or farm bureau, by which men versed in farming or who desire to go back to the farm would be able to finance themselves.

A feature of the first session of the convention was the appearance of Harry M. Daugherty and William H. Boyd of Cleveland, who nosed out Daugherty for delegate-at-large. Boyd declared the Wood delegation "went into the Chicago convention as Republicans and came out as Democrats." Both Daugherty and Boyd urged support of the Republican national ticket.

Harding's First Campaign Speech.

Washington, June 30.—Declaring the nation "requires no council of foreign powers to point the way of American duty," Senator Harding, in his first campaign speech, urged the preservation of Americanism as the first and highest endeavor of all citizens of the republic. The candidate's first utterance of the campaign was heard by no audience. It was made for a phonographic record, to be used throughout the campaign.

NEW SLOGAN HEARD AT SAN FRANCISCO IS AGAINST M'ADOO

"Anybody But McAdoo"
Now Cry Of His Opponents.

San Francisco June 30.—There is a new slogan among the various forces opposed to the nomination of William G. McAdoo. It is "Anybody but McAdoo." The McAdoo boomers are struggling with redoubled efforts against what many regard as a reaction against him.

McAdoo workers have joined the Palmer forces in using the divorce argument against Governor Cox. There is an unmistakable resentment among many delegates against the injection of the Cox divorce talk. The governor's management contends that it has acted as a boomerang against those that have been floating it.

The Cox forces seem entirely satisfied with the situation. New converts to the cause of the Buckeye governor are claimed. It was said the Maryland delegation was his.

Just when some of the ultra wets were reported to be weakening in their enthusiasm for Cox, the Anti-Saloon league gave them new faith in the form of a statement, attributing to the governor nearly everything the Ohio Home Rule association has adopted in years.

GOVERNMENT TAKES HAND IN N. Y. CASE

New York, June 30.—The federal government today took a hand in the investigation of the mysterious murder of Joseph P. Bowne Elwell. Revenue agents were brought into the case by the report that Elwell was involved in an illegal whiskey deal and was trading with bootleggers at the time he was shot. They are making a vigorous search for persons who may have bought or sold whiskey from or to Elwell just before he was slain. The investigators of the police force and district attorney's office admit themselves still at sea.

PASS RESOLUTIONS

Washington, June 30.—Resolutions in praise of the Democratic administration were passed by the San Francisco convention at the first day's session were received by President Wilson this morning. No agency dispatch from Belgrade this statement concerning the answer which the president may make was received from Belgrade from U.S. kab.

Fierce Fighting Rages In Streets With Anarchistic Forces.

London, June 30.—Four hundred Italians have been killed in two days fighting between anarchists and troops at Ancona and Piombino according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today quoting the newspaper Epoca.

Fierce battles during which the soldiers employed artillery raged in the streets of both cities. The anarchists fight from powerful barricades. The troops bombarded the forts violently and then carried them by storm.

Dispatches from the Central News and Exchange Telegraph correspondents at Rome indicate widespread attempts by anarchists and radical socialists to precipitate riots and mutinies throughout Italy to embarrass the government. These disorders may result in the collapse of the Giolitti cabinet. It is announced at Rome, however, that the ministry will "maintain order at all costs."

The garrison at Ohino has been disarmed.

The general strike in Rome has been called off.

REPRISALS TAKEN ON BRITISH, WARNS SINN FEIN CHIEF

Commandant Says Destruction of Towns
Must Stop.

Cork, June 30.—The Sinn Fein commandant has warned Brigadier General C. H. T. Lucas, who is a prisoner in Sinn Fein hands, that unless the police and soldiers stop wrecking towns in South Ireland, Lucas himself will be held responsible and reprisals will be taken against him, and any other British officers who are captured, it was learned today.

Sinn Fein leaders declared that civilians must not be molested by the British police and military. It is reported from Fermoy, Lismore and Bantry that many women and children are fleeing from these places, fearing violence on the part of British soldiers.

TROOPS STORM SEAPORT

London, June 30.—Albanian troops have stormed and captured the great Adriatic seaport of Valona making prisoners of the entire Italian garrison according to a news agency dispatch from Belgrade this afternoon, quoting a telegram previously received in Belgrade from U.S. kab.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM ADOPTS WILSON VIEWS: ADMINISTRATION RULES

Wednesday's Session at San Francisco Devoted to Oratory;
Wilson Forces in Saddle Overcome Opposition On Platform Building.

COX, PALMER, AND McADOO ARE IN LEAD

Each of Three Rival Camps Claim in Neighborhood of 300
Votes On Early Ballots; McAdoo's Support
Difficult To Estimate.

San Francisco, June 30.—A platform reflecting the policies and views of President Wilson was rapidly approaching completion when the "steering committee" of nine members of the resolutions committee of the Democratic convention adjourned at an early hour this morning.

No hitch in the administration program had apparently developed. The "steering committee" met again at 9:30 this morning reported "progress" to the full committee when the latter reconvened half an hour later.

San Francisco, June 30.—Neck and neck the three principal contenders for the Democratic nomination—Governor James M. Cox, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer and William Gibbs McAdoo—were racing for first ballot honors today as the nominating speech makers got their morning shave and prepared for the oratorical fireworks marking the beginning of the convention's final stage.

Each of these three candidates will poll in the neighborhood of 300 according to an estimate based on figures obtained from the supporters of the candidates themselves and checked against data secured from the uninstructed delegations.

Palmer's supporters are claiming as high as 375 votes on the first ballot but the more conservative element among them today declared they could rely on 320.

Governor Cox's rosters claimed just before the nominations were scheduled to begin, 300 votes on the first roll call though some Coxites admitted they expected to poll somewhat under 300 at the outset but would climb.

McAdoo's support is hardest of all to weigh. Scattered and unorganized estimates, vary widely. One of the shrewdest politicians of the southwest today claimed for McAdoo 358 votes on the first ballot as against 253 for Cox and 198 for Palmer.

Twelve states here are instructed with a total of 336 votes in the convention. The uninstructed states and territories number forty one with a total vote of 756. Cox has only two states instructed for him—his own, Ohio, and Kentucky, while Palmer has the same number for him—Pennsylvania his home state and Georgia.

The three principal figures on the contests have respectively 104 delegates bound to Palmer, 74 to Cox, and 19 to McAdoo, a total of 188 votes, leaving 904 practically free to shift at will after the opening ballot. With such an unbound lot of delegates as that to deal with even the sharpest of the politicians here admit that anything can happen and the nomination is far from clinched by anybody.

DESERTER FROM NAVY ADMITS SETTING FIRE TO EASTERN HOTELS

Said He Was Victim Of
"Voices" and Worked
Under Spell.

Boston, June 30.—James Hokbo, of Clifton, N. J., a deserter from the navy today confessed to the police that he set four early morning hotel fires which have endangered thousands of lives and caused a reign of terror among hotel guests here last week Hokbo, alias Harrison, said he became the victim of "voices" after nightfall and set the fires while under a spell.

DENY REPORT THAT ATTEMPT MADE TO DELETE WET PLANK

Rumor Current That Vote
Of 6-3 Taken Against
Plan.

San Francisco, June 30.—A report that the sub-committee of the resolutions committee at its session early today, had voted, six to three against a proposal to put a wet plank in the Democratic platform was flatly denied early today by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, chairman of the resolutions committee and also the sub-committee.

"There is not a word of truth in the report," Senator Glass stated. "We did not take any action of any kind as I said when the session adjourned early this morning."

San Francisco, June 30.—Nominating speeches are in order today at the Democratic national convention. Balloting for a nominee, however, will not be permitted before the platform has been adopted by the convention.

With administration forces continuing in apparently complete control, the convention perfected its organization, accepting Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas as its permanent chairman; permitted states to upset the unit rule; provided for taking women on the Democratic national committee, and prepared for the business of having candidates nominated by adopting an order of business which will permit the delivery of nominating speeches before the platform is brought in.

Senator Robinson had a little difficulty keeping the machine going at the pace Mr. Cummings had set. There was a little confusion on parliamentary procedure at times, and once Mr. Cummings intervened to straighten out a resolution to perfect the convention's plans to give women full and equal representation on the national committee.

The resolution had gotten into the tortuous ways of parliamentary practice, which was sending it back to a committee, when National Chairman Cummings saved it by an explanation of its terms. "If the Democratic party is in earnest about this business of taking women into its party councils," said Cummings, "let it adopt this resolution and adopt it now."

The resolution then went through. The committeewomen already have been elected by many delegations.

Storm-Swept Hearing.

Open warfare over prohibition, the Irish question and other troublesome issues of the Democratic platform began in a storm-swept committee hearing, while in private the leaders continued their negotiations for a settlement to keep the hostilities from spreading later to the floor of the convention itself.

A momentary defeat was administered the Bryan dry legions in the full platform committee when a parliamentary battle for position on the speakers' list was decided in favor of the wets by a vote of 27 to 26. When the dries were forced to go ahead, Mr. Bryan took charge of the time allotted to that side but divided all of it among other speakers, representing the Anti-Saloon league, church associations and other prohibition organizations.

For the wets W. Bourke Cockran of New York was the chief spokesman, during a debate in which Mr. Bryan was called to explain his connections with the Anti-Saloon league. He denied that he ever had received compensation from the league, except for "four months of last year, for certain public speeches."

The Irish issue was argued in such militant fashion that the crowded committee room was in almost constant uproar. Opponents of the proposal for recognition of the Irish republic were kept under a hail of heckling and derision from Irish sympathizers.

HUNGARIANS WILL ATTEMPT TO RESTORE MONARCHY, REPORT

Army Officers With Troops
Marching On Budapest.

London, June 30.—Hungarian army officers with detachments of troops are preparing to march on Budapest and attempt to restore the monarchy, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Prague today. The telegram described the Hungarian political situation as serious and said there was a strong anti-Semitic sentiment among the plotters.

Just when some of the ultra wets were reported to be weakening in their enthusiasm for Cox, the Anti-Saloon league gave them new faith in the form of a statement, attributing to the governor nearly everything the Ohio Home Rule association has adopted in years.

New York, June 30.—The federal government today took a hand in the investigation of the mysterious murder of Joseph Bowne Elwell. Revenue agents were brought into the case by the report that Elwell was involved in an illegal whiskey deal and was trading with bootleggers at the time he was shot. They are making a vigorous search for persons who may have bought or sold whiskey from or to Elwell just before he was slain. The investigators of the police force and district attorney's office admit themselves still at sea.

PASS RESOLUTIONS
Washington, June 30.—Resolutions in praise of the Democratic administration were passed by the San Francisco convention at the first day's session were received by President Wilson this morning. No statement concerning the answer which the president may make was issued.

Fierce Fighting Rages In Streets With Anarchistic Forces.

London, June 30.—Four hundred Italians have been killed in two days fighting between anarchists and troops at Ancona and Piombino according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today quoting the newspaper Epoca.

Fierce battles during which the soldiers employed artillery raged in the streets of both cities. The anarchists fight from powerful barricades. The troops bombarded the forts violently and then carried them by storm.

Dispatches from the Central News and Exchange Telegraph correspondents at Rome indicate widespread attempts by anarchists and radical socialists to precipitate riots and mutinies throughout Italy to embarrass the government. These disorders may result in the collapse of the Giolitti cabinet. It is announced at Rome, however, that the ministry will "maintain order at all costs."

The garrison at Ohimo has been disarmed. The general strike in Rome has been called off.

REPRISALS TAKEN ON BRITISH, WARNS SINN FEIN CHIEF

Commandant Says Destruction of Towns
Must Stop.

Cork, June 30.—The Sinn Fein commandant has warned Brigadier General C. H. T. Lucas, who is a prisoner in Sinn Fein hands, that unless the police and soldiers stop wrecking towns in South Ireland, Lucas himself will be held responsible and reprisals will be taken against him, and any other British officers who are captured, it was learned today.

Sinn Fein leaders declared that civilians must not be molested by the British police and military. It is reported from Fermoy, Lismore and Bantry that many women and children are fleeing from these places, fearing violence on the part of British soldiers.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM ADOPTS WILSON VIEWS: ADMINISTRATION RULES

Wednesday's Session at San Francisco Devoted to Oratory;
Wilson Forces in Saddle Overcome Opposition On Platform Building.

COX, PALMER, AND McADOO ARE IN LEAD

Each of Three Rival Camps Claim in Neighborhood of 300
Votes On Early Ballots; McAdoo's Support
Difficult To Estimate.

San Francisco, June 30.—A platform reflecting the policies and views of President Wilson was rapidly approaching completion when the "steering committee" of nine members of the resolutions committee of the Democratic convention adjourned at an early hour this morning.

No hitch in the administration program had apparently developed. The "steering committee" met again at 9:30 this morning reported "progress" to the full committee when the latter reconvened half an hour later.

San Francisco, June 30.—Neck and neck the three principal contenders for the Democratic nomination—Governor James M. Cox, Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer and William Gibbs McAdoo—were racing for first ballot honors today as the nominating speech makers got their morning shave and prepared for the oratorical fireworks marking the beginning of the convention's final stage.

Each of these three candidates will poll in the neighborhood of 300 according to an estimate based on figures obtained from the supporters of the candidates themselves and checked against data secured from the uninstructed delegations.

Palmer's supporters are claiming as high as 375 votes on the first ballot but the more conservative element among them today declared they could rely on 320.

Governor Cox's rosters claimed just before the nominations were scheduled to begin, 300 votes on the first roll call though some Coxites admitted they expected to poll somewhat under 300 at the outset but would climb.

McAdoo's support is hardest of all to weigh. Scattered and unorganized estimates, vary widely. One of the shrewdest politicians of the southwest today claimed for McAdoo 358 votes on the first ballot as against 253 for Cox and 198 for Palmer.

Twelve states here are instructed with a total of 336 votes in the convention. The uninstructed states and territories number forty one with a total vote of 756. Cox has only two states instructed for him—his own, Ohio—and Kentucky, while Palmer has the same number for him—Pennsylvania his home state and Georgia.

The three principal figures on the contests have respectively 104 delegates bound to Palmer, 74 to Cox, and 10 to McAdoo, a total of 188 votes, leaving 904 practically free to shift at will after the opening ballot. With such an unbound lot of delegates as that to deal with even the sharpest of the politicians here admit that anything can happen and the nomination is far from clinched by anybody.

DESERTER FROM NAVY ADMITS SETTING FIRE TO EASTERN HOTELS

Said He Was Victim Of
"Voices" and Worked
Under Spell.

Boston, June 30.—James Hokbo, of Clifton, N. J., a deserter from the navy today confessed to the police that he set four early morning hotel fires which have endangered thousands of lives and caused a reign of terror among hotel guests here last week Hokbo, alias Harrison, said he became the victim of "voices" after nightfall and set the fires while under a spell.

DENY REPORT THAT ATTEMPT MADE TO DELETE WET PLANK

Rumor Current That Vote
Of 6-3 Taken Against
Plan.

San Francisco, June 30.—A report that the sub-committee of the resolutions committee at its session early today, had voted, six to three against a proposal to put a wet plank in the Democratic platform was flatly denied early today by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, chairman of the resolutions committee and also the sub-committee.

"There is not a word of truth in the report," Senator Glass stated. "We did not take any action of any kind as I said when the session adjourned early this morning."

San Francisco, June 30.—Nominating speeches are in order today at the Democratic national convention. Balloting for a nominee, however, will not be permitted before the platform has been adopted by the convention.

With administration forces continuing in apparently complete control, the convention perfected its organization, accepting Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas as its permanent chairman; permitted states to upset the unit rule; provided for taking women on the Democratic national committee, and prepared for the business of having candidates nominated by adopting an order of business which will permit the delivery of nominating speeches before the platform is brought in.

Senator Robinson had a little difficulty keeping the machine going at the pace Mr. Cummings had set. There was a little confusion on parliamentary procedure at times, and once Mr. Cummings intervened to straighten out a resolution to perfect the convention's plans to give women full and equal representation on the national committee.

The resolution had gotten into the tortuous ways of parliamentary practice, which was sending it back to a committee, when National Chairman Cummings saved it by an explanation of its terms. "If the Democratic party is in earnest about this business of taking women into its party councils," said Cummings, "let it adopt this resolution and adopt it now."

The resolution then went through. The committeewomen already have been elected by many delegations.

Storm-Swept Hearing.
Open warfare over prohibition, the Irish question and other troublesome issues of the Democratic platform began in a storm-swept committee hearing, while in private the leaders continued their negotiations for a settlement to keep the hostilities from spreading later to the floor of the convention itself.

A momentary defeat was administered the Bryan dry legions in the full platform committee when a parliamentary battle for position on the speakers' list was decided in favor of the wets by a vote of 27 to 26. When the dries were forced to go ahead, Mr. Bryan took charge at the time allotted to that side but divided all of it among other speakers, representing the Anti-Saloon league, church associations and other prohibition organizations.

For the wets W. Bourke Cockran of New York was the chief spokesman, during a debate in which Mr. Bryan was called to explain his connections with the Anti-Saloon league. He denied that he ever had received compensation from the league, except for "four months of last year, for certain public speeches."

The Irish issue was argued in such militant fashion that the crowded committee room was in almost constant uproar. Opponents of the proposal for recognition of the Irish republic were kept under a hail of heckling and derision from Irish sympathizers.

HUNGARIANS WILL ATTEMPT TO RESTORE MONARCHY, REPORT

Army Officers With Troops
Marching On Budapest.

London, June 30.—Hungarian army officers with detachments of troops are preparing to march on Budapest and attempt to restore the monarchy, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Prague today. The telegram described the Hungarian political situation as serious and said there was a strong anti-semitic sentiment among the plotters.

BEAUTY CHATS

LARGE PORES

One of the most common complaints that I have is about large pores. Usually these are the result of blackheads, and blackheads frequently are the result of pimples. Now, blackheads, and consequently large pores, are usually found on persons with oily skins, and oftener on brunettes than blondes.

A blackhead is an accumulation of fatty matter in the pores of the skin—or rather in one pore. This fatty matter distends the pore until it is large enough to be visible; and where it comes in contact with atmospheric dust and dirt, it acquires a black tip or head.

A blackhead sometimes reaches so far down into the skin that, on being removed, it is found to be an inch long. Sometimes pus follows when it is pressed out. This shows that microbes have gotten down under the skin. When the blackheads have been removed the distended pore does not immediately shrink and the result is a case of large pores.

Alkaline preparations, medicated soaps, sulphurated water, ether, alcohol and other astringents are all used to close up these pores. As in the normal healthy skin the pores are not visible I have found that a general stimulating face treatment is all that is necessary for most cases.

It consists of cleansing the skin thoroughly with a cleansing cream. This is to be followed by a thorough washing with hot water and a good soap, then by a hot rinse to get the soap out of the skin—for soap left in the skin is apt to cause large pores—and finally by an astringent rinse. This may consist of rubbing the skin with ice or rinsing with water to which a few drops of tincture of benzoin have been added, or by wiping over the face with some good astringent.

Anxious Anne—You are not overweight; in fact you are about 5 pounds or so under weight. It will not hurt you if you put a few drops of peroxide occasionally on your tooth brush when you are cleansing your teeth.

CUT
Can you see black pores in the creases of your face?
Sue Z.—A girl 5 feet tall, 14 years old, should weigh between 105 and 110 pounds.

Fatty—A girl 17 years old, 5 feet 3 inches, should weigh about 120 pounds.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fifteen years old and am desperately in love with a man twenty-four. He seems to care very much for me. He kissed me good-night the other night. He takes me to the picture show twice a week and buys me everything I want. Will you please tell me whether I am doing right or not?
J. C.

You are too young to go with men. Be careful now because your whole life's happiness may be spoiled by a hasty and impulsive act. You can see from my column that most marriages are a failure when the girl marries at your age.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a divorced woman of twenty-eight and a mother of three of the dearest children God ever blessed one with. I was happily married until two years ago, when I discovered my husband's faithlessness. I felt I could never forgive him, but I bore him no ill will.

After I was free I met a man I could have idolized, but who also proved unworthy. It broke my heart, but I put him out of my life.

My dear mother died two years ago and I lost the best friend on earth when she went. Don't think I am complaining. I have tried to be brave, but I get lonely and blue sometimes.

I have had many chances to get acquainted with seemingly fine men, but I scorn the means of acquaintance.

Since mother died I have stayed home with my babies and I have eight brothers and sisters to care for. I would not mind this, but rather consider it a blessing, if I had a fatherly father to advise me.

with me. He comes home so ugly sometimes I think he is going crazy. He curses God so much for nothing.

I want to bring up my dear little babies to love God, but my heart turns cold with fear when I see the atmosphere I am keeping them in. I would be willing to sacrifice anything for the good of my children.

Do you think it is my duty to stay home under these circumstances? Would you advise me to leave town? I have stayed home the biggest share of the time since I was married twelve years ago, trying to lighten some of my poor mother's burdens, but I feel now that things have reached a climax. I can't stand any more.

FORSAKEN.

Since your father has indulged his temper until it is a form of insanity, neither your children nor your brothers and sisters should have to live with him. The ideal way would be to get him to leave the house, but at the same time contribute toward the support of the home. This could probably be arranged if you brought the matter to the attention of the probate court.

I hardly think that the evil of your father will contaminate the children. The influence of your good mother and your own influence will be greater. Swearing such as you mention is disgusting and repellent to children. Very often the father is such a bad example that the child never swears.

You need a rest and deserve to go away with your own children for several months or a year. At the end of the time you would probably be ready to take up your burden again. Your father might decide it would be easier to behave himself than to lose you.

I certainly sympathize with you, but know that some day just compensation will come as a result of your loyalty and effort to do right.

as absolutely without justification, says the statement issued by the council and shows "the farmer's interest as a laborer is about three times as great as his interest as a capitalist."

"Few farmers," the statement continues, "and fewer city people appreciate that agriculture is primarily labor and underpaid labor at that."

"Farmers who manage farms are entitled to fully as big money returns as managers of other business enterprises, but they often receive less wages than many unskilled workers who themselves are not getting a living wage, and we should count their services worth at least $2,000 a year."

There will be no such payment for seasonal and hired labor this year at least, the council declares, "for the obvious reason that farmers were discouraged with the low prices received for their products and have not sown such large acreages. Farmers can always feed themselves, but their business must show a profit before they feed other people."

The return of the railroads to private control, "with the increase in rates and consequent increase in prices, will place an increased burden of at least two billion upon the farmers," the council declares.

According to the figures gathered by the council the total costs and expenditures on all the farms in the country last year were $31,463,877,000. The total value of crops was $16,025,000,000 and the total value of animals and animal products was $8,957,000,000.

It is estimated that the total amount spent by the farmers for labor was $5,000,000,000 and the total freight bill for moving products $600,000,000.

Columbus Gasoline

You're not violating the Volstead act when you use this good, pure, straight run fuel, and you're putting all the pep and kick in your car that the prohibitionists took out of the brown bottles last July.

You're done with sluggish fuel for all time after you've driven your first mile on Columbus, for the initial trial will convince you that there is no better gasoline to be had.

You'll be first away at crossings where once you were last. Your engine will start easily and run smoothly at all speeds. You'll have ample power to negotiate steep hills and to conquer heavy going.

And the big mileages you'll get from every gallon of Columbus will satisfy you that Columbus is just as economical as it is efficient.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

A STRANGE, HELPFUL FRIENDSHIP

Chapter 51

Mary had been in the house only half a day and yet I already was beginning to feel a dependence upon her. Just before she bade me good-night she said:

"I ain't tryin' to make you tell me nothin' Zenia Stewart and don't go thinkin' so. But I know somethin's worryin' you. Don't let it. Grit your teeth and tell them all to go straight to—you know where. A girl has to if she is poor and needs work. And don't give in to the blues. They're bad for you. And don't let freshies worry you neither. They can't hurt you."

"Oh, but it does hurt! Just to think they take me for that kind of a girl hurts. You see, Mary I had a wonderful father. I loved him dearly. He used to say he wanted his girl to be good, really good, more than any thing else. I think if there was nothing else, that would always keep me good—to please Dad. And when I think people doubt me in any way it makes me terribly unhappy."

"You mustn't let it! You can't have everything in this world. You can't be poor and thin skinned too. Some folks expect an awful lot," she said this so comically that I laughed.

"That's right, laugh a little! It sort of helps a lot to laugh. A girl has to have a little fun once in a while even if I have to make it for a certain one I know."

"Will you come in and have a cup of tea with me in the morning?" I asked. "I make it myself."

"I'll be there with my hair in a braid! she declared then ran away to her room.

"I'm so glad she came today," I said aloud after she left me. "I couldn't have got thru the day alone."

But I soon forgot all about Mary Murphy in thinking of other things. My quest for work, Mother—and Kenneth Lawrence. What would this man who talked about not being able to breathe in cities, think if he knew of what I had been suspected? I sat down and wrote him a letter, giving him my address but saying nothing of my changed circumstances. An address would mean nothing to him as far as having any idea of the locality went.

But after I had written that letter I tore it up. I would not put him in the position that such a letter would. If I couldn't be perfectly honest with him, I would have nothing to say to him—ever.

Thoughts of Kenneth Lawrence were never conducive to sleep. So I lay wide-eyed until almost morning, trying to see just a little ways into the future; trying to brace up my determination to win success and money for a home for mother.

I thought too of that flashy young fellow in the restaurant. Would I have that sort of thing too in my life? Mary said I would—that she did. But he never had spoken to me when alone. I would tell Mary she must be more quiet in public. I was sure she would not be offended.

I wondered what Mother would think of Mary. She WAS funny.

Dad would understand. He would have appreciated loneliness and all that it meant to me. He would know and understand the longing for companionship which made me grasp eagerly at the offer from the first young girl I had met even tho she were an uneducated girl like Mary. If her heart were all right, Dad would never cavil at any deficiencies of education.

Before my tea was quite ready, Mary came in:

"Oh, I forgot to rap. I ought to, oughtn't I?"

"Yes, Mary. I am afraid you ought. Then for fear she would think I was trying to correct her. I added: "Mother never allowed me to go to anyone's room without rapping, not ever her's or Dad's."

Without a word Mary went out into the hall and rapped on the door. "Come in," I said laughing.

"The top of the mornin' to yees!" she affected a brogue.

"Oh, how good it seems to have some one my own age near me." I could not help saying. "I have been so lonely, Mary. You see, I don't know a soul in Chicago."

"Well, you do now! And I'm mistaken if it wasn't the best thing Mary Murphy ever done when she beat Mrs. Lynch down 50 cents and took that room. I don't mean best for you—I wouldn't be so bold. But best for me, I ain't never had any chance to talk to a girl like you before. I didn't sleep a wink wonderin' if I ever could learn to sling the language the way you do—so natural like too."

"Of course you will! I'll help you teach you all I can if you want me too."

"Want you to! Why I'd go down on my knees to you if you'd do that. You don't know how I want to know things."

Tomorrow—Another Job.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF WEALTHY FARMER CHARGED TO SON

Echoes of the mysterious murder of James Gothermann wealthy farmer of near Hillsboro, who was found dead in his bed last winter, were heard in Dayton Tuesday night with the arrest of Russell R. Gothermann, 22 son of the murdered man who is said to have confessed to the crime. He was immediately removed to the county jail at Hillsboro.

The dead man was last seen alive in Xenia when he purchased a ticket for Indiana where he intended to visit relatives, after his son Russell drove him to this city. During months when he was supposed by relatives to be visiting in Indiana, it was deduced at the time of finding his body March 1, that he had been lying dead in bed.

The body of the older Gothermann who was 65 years of age was found by a nephew whom he had instructed before leaving to open up his house on March 1, in case he had not returned by that time. As the young man entered the bedroom he noticed what he at first thought was a pile of bed clothes in the bed. Pulling down the sheets he found the aged man, the body decomposed and with a revolver clamped in his hand. Following discovery of the dead body, a private detective agency from Cincinnati was put on the case but were unable to discover anything. Gothermann was reputed to be wealthy.

According to the story told Dayton police, Russell Gothermann drove his father to this city where the older man purchased a ticket for Indiana, on Thanksgiving Day. The murdered man was last seen alive in this city. The youth says he and his father quarreled over some cattle. He alleges that his father drew a revolver and threatened his life. In the struggle which ensued the shot was fired and the elder man fell dead. No explanation was given in the story told police of how the young man returned the body to his father's home from this city near where the shooting is supposed to have taken place. Gothermann is said to have placed his father in bed, put the revolver in his hand and fled.

After the shooting the young man went to Dayton where he lived for a time on South Perry street under an assumed name. When arrested he lived at 1414 West Third street. He was taken in custody by Detectives Poote and Horne of the Dayton detective force as he was entering a Dayton theater with a girl Tuesday night. When arrested he had in his possession $17,400 in Liberty bonds. At police headquarters he is alleged to have confessed to the theft of the bond and $400 in cash which he has since spent.

When questioned he showed no signs of emotion and told his story readily after a little coaxing.

WHAT FRANCE HAS DONE TO REBUILD IN A YEAR.

Recently a prominent French statesman felt that the British misunderstanding of France was so serious that it was necessary for him to ask for a closer relationship; and his words almost sound as if they might have been addressed to some in this country who have begun to doubt French intentions. For says the Frenchman:

"You find us querulous, discontented, inefficient. Send over your compatriots to make a tour of our devastated regions. They will see that alone, in less than eighteen months, we have rebuilt our railways and two-thirds of our canals, cleared 95 per cent of our fields of shells, put under cultivation 60 per cent of their surface, finished the reconstruction of 50 per cent of our factories, which, from this time on, will be productive; rebuilt all our bridges and tunnels, provided shelter for two-thirds of the 3,000,000 persons whom war had driven from their homes. They will see that, notwithstanding the lamentations of certain of our newspapers, we are working hard. As in war, so in peace; we are in it, we must win it.

Following this he asks for the moral support of Great Britain; that there should be no "scraps of paper" between the two countries, and that Germany should be made to know that England and the United States are not indifferent to the French demand that she be protected from Germany. While this argument is aimed at Great Britain, it can be read with profit here, where there is no disposition to abandon France by any means and every disposition to give her the benefit of the doubt in her demand for reparation and protection.

THE WONDERFUL EVOLUTION OF WOMEN.

For centuries it was said, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." And each woman rocked her cradle apart from every other woman; and sometimes she lifted her eyes and looked on the world, and it seemed to her a strange world that she was ruling, rather different from the kind of world she meant to make when she rocked the cradle; but she did not quite understand how to make it different. Then there came a day when a trained womanhood, that had pressed its way into the schools of the land, looked out upon the world with level eyes and said, "We will have a little more direct method than we have had." So the organized mother love of America, under the leadership of the great mother-heart of Frances E. Willard began to bring about a little more rulership and direct action on the part of women in the world. They went out into the schools. They conceived and executed the plan of putting scientific temperance instruction into every little red schoolhouse in America. They set the little children everywhere to singing, "Tremble, King Alcohol, we shall grow up!" The hard-headed business men of a generation ago listened tolerantly, scarce giving it a thought. But that generation trained in the public schools, the Sunday schools, and the Loyal Temperance Legion has grown up. And today we have a bone-dry nation.

But that was not all. The women said, "We believe that this man-controlled world needs a little help. It is not good for man to be alone—at the ballot box. We are tired of a lonely woman's sphere; if you please, we will take a hemisphere." And we have been mowing steadily ever since, in spite of brewers' opposition to the franchise for women.—Madeline Southerd.

THE POLITICAL SPORTING EVENT OF THE SEASON—PICKING THE WINNER

AS HERETOFORE, THE DRYS MUST KEEP EVERLASTINGLY AT IT.

The prohibitionists will oppose every effort to obtain a modification of the Volstead act through the election of a Congress favorable to light wines and beers. An announcement just published of the program to be followed by the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the strongest prohibition force outside the Anti-Saloon League, sets forth the work that the organization expects to do in view of the decision of the Supreme Court upholding both the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. That program, which will be carried forward regardless of the action taken by the two great political parties in their platforms, calls for the speedy extinction of illegal sale of liquor; opposition to the election of a Congress inclined to light wines and beers, and a warning that prohibitionists must not become the victims of apathy.

"The one resource left to the liquor interests," says the statement of the Board of Temperance, "is resistance to the enforcement of the laws."

"An effort undoubtedly will be made to defeat congressmen who voted for the Volstead enforcement act and to elect a Congress which will at least attempt to pass a law which will raise the standard of alcoholic contents. The only thing that will stop this political offensive against prohibition will be decisive and successive defeats at the polls.

Cleveland, O., June 30.—Three shots from a revolver, was the reply which Morris Shapiro, 60, of Toledo, received early this morning, when he inquired of a man where he could find lodging. All of the shots took effect. Attaches at the Charity hospital, where Shapiro was taken, say that he will recover. A man suspected of having fired three shots, has been arrested.

REPUBLICANS ARE IN CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS PROGRAM

Washington, June 30.—The character of the campaign and the part each is to take in it were discussed here today by Senator Warren G. Harding and Governor Calvin Coolidge, Republican nominees for president and vice president, respectively. It was the first meeting of the two since their nomination at Chicago on June 12.

General plans of the campaign, together with the outstanding policies and broad lines of the speeches of acceptance to be made by each of them were considered today by the nominees. There is a possibility that before the conferences end today, the Senator and the governor will be joined by national chairman Will H. Hays and Harry M. Daugherty who are directing the organization of the Republican campaign.

Governor Coolidge arrived late last night. This morning he breakfasted with Senator Harding at the latter's home. The movie men caught them there and they posed for the picture features of the campaign. They came together to Senator Harding's office in the senate office building where the conferences were held.

Before Harding and Coolidge reached the senate office building a delegation of suffragists, led by Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest of Scituate, Mass., a member of the national advisory committee of the woman's party were on hand to interrogate Governor Coolidge and to urge him to use his influence with the governor of Vermont to hasten action in calling a special session of the legislature to act on the suffrage amendment.

Late yesterday Senator Harding dictated in a photograph a speech on "Americanism."

A few days ago at his home at Northampton, Mass., Governor Coolidge dictated a speech on "law and order." These speeches are to be sent out by the Republican national committee and will be a feature of many Republican political rallies and patriotic celebrations on July 4. Plans have been made to have the records at Marion, Ohio, for the return of Senator Harding and the joint fourth of July and Marion home coming day on July 5.

Final arrangements have been completed for the transfer next Saturday of Senator Harding's personal staff, office force, files and supplies to Marion, Ohio.

WHAT FRANCE HAS DONE TO REBUILD IN A YEAR.

Recently a prominent French statesman felt that the British misunderstanding of France was so serious that it was necessary for him to ask for a closer relationship; and his words almost sound as if they might have been addressed to some in this country who have begun to doubt French intentions. For says the Frenchman:

"You find us querulous, discontented, inefficient. Send over your compatriots to make a tour of our devastated regions. They will see that alone, in less than eighteen months, we have rebuilt our railways and two-thirds of our canals, cleared 95 per cent of our fields of shells, put under cultivation 60 per cent of their surface, finished the reconstruction of 50 per cent of our factories, which, from this time on, will be productive; rebuilt all our bridges and tunnels, provided shelter for two-thirds of the 3,000,000 persons whom war had driven from their homes. They will see that, notwithstanding the lamentations of certain of our newspapers, we are working hard. As in war, so in peace; we are in it, we must win it.

Following this he asks for the moral support of Great Britain; that there should be no "scraps of paper" between the two countries, and that Germany should be made to know that England and the United States are not indifferent to the French demand that she be protected from Germany. While this argument is aimed at Great Britain, it can be read with profit here, where there is no disposition to abandon France by any means and every disposition to give her the benefit of the doubt in her demand for reparation and protection.

THE WONDERFUL EVOLUTION OF WOMEN.

For centuries it was said, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." And each woman rocked her cradle apart from every other woman; and sometimes she lifted her eyes and looked on the world, and it seemed to her a strange world that she was ruling, rather different from the kind of world she meant to make when she rocked the cradle; but she did not quite understand how to make it different. Then there came a day when a trained womanhood, that had pressed its way into the schools of the land, looked out upon the world with level eyes and said, "We will have a little more direct method than we have had." So the organized mother love of America, under the leadership of the great mother-heart of Frances E. Willard began to bring about a little more rulership and direct action on the part of women in the world. They went out into the schools. They conceived and executed the plan of putting scientific temperance instruction into every little red schoolhouse in America. They set the little children everywhere to singing, "Tremble, King Alcohol, we shall grow up!" The hard-headed business men of a generation ago listened tolerantly, scarce giving it a thought. But that generation trained in the public schools, the Sunday schools, and the Loyal Temperance Legion has grown up. And today we have a bone-dry nation.

But that was not all. The women said, "We believe that this man-controlled world needs a little help. It is not good for man to be alone—at the ballot box. We are tired of a lonely woman's sphere; if you please, we will take a hemisphere." And we have been moving steadily ever since, in spite of brewers' opposition to the franchise for women.—Madeline Southerd.

THE POLITICAL SPORTING EVENT OF THE SEASON—PICKING THE WINNER

AS HERETOFORE, THE DRYS MUST KEEP EVERLASTINGLY AT IT.

The prohibitionists will oppose every effort to obtain a modification of the Volstead act through the election of a Congress favorable to light wines and beers. An announcement just published of the program to be followed by the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the strongest prohibition force outside the Anti-Saloon League, sets forth the work that the organization expects to do in view of the decision of the Supreme Court upholding both the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. That program, which will be carried forward regardless of the action taken by the two great political parties in their platforms, calls for the speedy extinction of illegal sale of liquor; opposition to the election of a Congress inclined to light wines and beers, and a warning that prohibitionists must not become the victims of apathy.

"The one resource left to the liquor interests," says the statement of the Board of Temperance, "is resistance to the enforcement of the laws."

"An effort undoubtedly will be made to defeat congressmen who voted for the Volstead enforcement act and to elect a Congress which will at least attempt to pass a law which will raise the standard of alcoholic contents. The only thing that will stop this political offensive against prohibition will be decisive and successive defeats at the polls.

Cleveland, O., June 30.—Three shots from a revolver, was the reply which Morris Shapiro, 60, of Toledo, received early this morning, when he inquired of a man where he could find lodging. All of the shots took effect. Attaches at the Charity hospital, where Shapiro was taken, say that he will recover. A man suspected of having fired three shots, has been arrested.

REPUBLICANS ARE IN CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS PROGRAM

Washington, June 30.—The character of the campaign and the part each is to take in it were discussed here today by Senator Warren G. Harding and Governor Calvin Coolidge, Republican nominees for president and vice president, respectively. It was the first meeting of the two since their nomination at Chicago on June 12.

General plans of the campaign, together with the outstanding policies and broad lines of the speeches of acceptance to be made by each of them were considered today by the nominees. There is a possibility that before the conferences end today, the Senator and the governor will be joined by national chairman Will H. Hays and Harry M. Daugherty who are directing the organization of the Republican campaign.

Governor Coolidge arrived late last night. This morning he breakfasted with Senator Harding at the latter's home. The movie men caught them there and they posed for the picture features of the campaign. They came together to Senator Harding's office in the senate office building where the conferences were held.

Before Harding and Coolidge reached the senate office building a delegation of suffragists, led by Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest of Scituate, Mass., a member of the national advisory committee of the women's party were on hand to interrogate Governor Coolidge and to urge him to use his influence with the governor of Vermont to hasten action in calling a special session of the legislature to act on the suffrage amendment.

Late yesterday Senator Harding dictated in a phonograph a speech on "Americanism." A few days ago at his home at Northampton, Mass., Governor Coolidge dictated a speech on "Law and order." These speeches are to be sent out by the Republican national committee and will be a feature of many Republican political rallies and patriotic celebrations on July 4. Plans have been made to have the records at Marion, Ohio, for the return of Senator Harding and the joint fourth of July and Marion home coming day on July 5.

Final arrangements have been completed for the transfer next Saturday of Senator Harding's personal staff, office force, files and supplies to Marion, Ohio.

JOB BE BROTHERS COMPANY

MONDAY IS HARDEST DAY ON TIME PIECES SAY LOCAL JEWELERS

What day is hardest on watches? The lad who makes a quick mental diagnosis and arrives at the conclusion that Monday is the answer, goes to the head of the class.

At least this is the opinion of local jewelers and who can gainsay the statement that they are capable of answering correctly. The ayes have it.

Monday is the hardest day on watches as it also is the hardest day on spectacles, necklaces, brooches, gasoline and pocketbooks. The jewelers testify to this also which shows that even a jeweler knows what makes the motor go besides mortgages and where money can be spent when jewelry shops are closed.

Jewelers here say that Monday is the heaviest repair day of the week. Watches receive the brunt of this accident surplus although many a pair of eye glasses receives brutal treatment on the holiday also. Watches being hidden away in dark pockets, and darker corners of those pockets, are forgotten about and their principal ailment is "crystallitis." In other words more timepieces are brought in on the wash day with the crystals demolished than for any other reason. Second in line of watch injuries in point of number is the breaking of the staff. Watches will be dropped no matter how fragile or how expensive they are and the result is a disabled staff, which must be replaced before the timepiece can give one hundred percent efficiency in its principal duty of recording the passing of time. Whether there are any ankle watches worn here and whether they receive the brunt of leather shoes in any family or near family battles the jewelers refused to state.

Spectacles it seems, have a propensity to drop as marked as the dropping of the mercury in the middle of July. Slippery noses are a failing among the human race and the glasses slide off long and short beaks, like snow off a slate roof when the sun comes out. Since the eye-glass manufacturers have not yet devised a transparent spectacle made from cast iron, the crash generally results in a jeweler's bill. There are a great many eye glass accidents on Sunday according to the jewelers, probably due to a certain amount of milling around on the day of rest. Necklaces, like the clerks in the store, came rolling in a little late every Monday morning. Some times it is the same necklace every Blue Monday in succession for several weeks. Then she quits going with that fellow and looks around for the next and the poor necklace gets a rest from the jewelers for awhile. Pearl necklaces being spun on fairy's breath break easier than Haviland China at a cheap restaurant and they constantly have to be rethreaded. And the cause of it all, is Sunday the week's day of rest. Loafing around, carelessness born of drowsiness, a usual Sunday pastime with some people and joy-riding reap the harvest of damaged jewelry. These are causes given by jewelers who are combined in standing up for more holidays in the year.

WILLIAM A. WHEELER
June 30th, 1819

Vice Presidents are frequently neglected as political factors, and history does not always stop to record the amount of hard and important work that many of them do. The life of William A. Wheeler, who was born in New York, in 1819, and who was Vice-President with President Hayes, is a long record of hard work.

His father died when Wheeler was a small boy, leaving the mother with three children and no means of support. She managed, nevertheless, to see that William had a good education. Later he put himself through two years of college. Then he studied law, holding positions meantime, one of them being as town clerk at $20 a year. At 30 he was in the assembly, at 40 in Congress. He was the author of the Wheeler Compromise, which adjusted the difficulties between the two political factions in Louisiana. He was elected Vice President when he was 57. After he had retired from public life, he took charge of the bankrupt Northern Railroad and, though he did not own a penny of its stock, he ran it so well that he brought its bonds up from four cents on the dollar to par. He seems to have been clever at adjusting difficulties, for he brought temporary peace among the fighting political parties in New York 40 years ago. He died in 1887.

"It is wonderful the relief I got from taking Dreco, for I felt like my back would break when I started on my first bottle," stated Mr. George Snyder, of 1105 First St., Findlay, O. Mr. Snyder is the well-known truck farmer who has lived in this city thirty years.

"I ached all over, my liver was sluggish and whole system in a run-down, weakened condition. I think I was on the verge of a breakdown. As soon as I started taking Dreco I felt better. # MONDAY IS HARDEST DAY ON TIME PIECES SAY LOCAL JEWELERS

What day is hardest on watches? The lad who makes a quick mental diagnosis and arrives at the conclusion that Monday is the answer, goes to the head of the class.
